An effective Comprehensive Student Support System (CSSS) responds to the changing needs and promotes success for every student. CSSS is an array of student support services that ensures appropriate services are provided and the delivery process corresponds to the severity, complexity, and frequency of each student's needs. CSSS identifies five levels of student support. A community of caring and supportive relationships between students, teachers, and families occurs at all five levels. However, each level increases in intensity or specialization of service.
